what by surprise, and to feel but little favor in their right. Besides, Shakespeare, Chaucer, and Scott, on this side of the Atlantic, and Prescott, Bancroft and Irving, on the other, were examples of men eminent once in literature, and the most useful of our own Marshalls and Wellingtons, almost as remarkable for their birth and economy as for their military genius; and, had Washington not been the greatest of patriot soldiers, he might have ranked high among the great men of his time. As there were three ways in which they might become great, so there were three ways in which they might become wealthy. Some men were born rich, some made rich; some had rich friends upon them; but only one in the world in which men might achieve riches, and he at once admitted that he had absolutely nothing to say on the subject of wealth. He could not repeat and improve more the old and well known rules of prudence and economy, illustrating those ancient saws wherever he could by modern instances. The lecturer concluded in a very forcible manner, that the secret of success was making money which he considered more important, interesting than with numerous amusing anecdotes which were exceedingly well told and well received. The rules were such as the following: Be a man who is not afraid to work; be a man who acts in following your passions; advertise no more about your business than is necessary; never pass a week without reading a good newspaper (a maxim which will be of service to all); be a man of equal truth and honesty; be a man of equal equality and equality sensible. Of the humor of the lecture it is impossible for us to give anything like a satisfactory sketch. Mr. Barnum concluded his remarks by a very ingenious and amusing defense of bungling, which he defined to be the art of doing a bad job in a way that is attractive, or putting on glittering appearances for the sake of attracting attention. This was only deserving of blame when the article was forward paid, but what it professed to do, when the object was to be sold for or shown was intrinsically good, it was allowable, he conceded, to draw attention to it by every legitimate means; and on this principle he vindicated his own conduct in publishing that which he had sold the public in an honest and straightforward manner. Mr. Barnum concluded his address amid loud applause, and on retiring, was called back to receive the hearty approbation of the audience, voted him by acclamation—a compliment which he acknowledged in a humorous and appropriate speech.

What are the Merciful?—Let the Desperado, the scoundrel, the villain, the very dog of the earth, if you have not four or five of suffering, relish in the Oxygenated Bitter, they are a cure for all his woes.

BORN.—A few days since, a man named Allen residing in Albany, met with a singular and painful accident. He wore a haircut beard, more than a foot in length. While running a sugar mill, which was worked by steam, the whiskers on and under the nose of his face and neck were caught in the machinery, and every hair of them torn out by the roots, leaving the skin as bare as the hand.

WORMS! WORMS!

A great many learned treatises have been written on the subject of worms, and the worms generated in the human system. Sarcely any topic of medical science has elicited more acute observation and profound research than this. The opinions of the divided in opinion on this subject. It must be admitted, however, that, after all, a mode of action is to be preferred to a mode of life, and from this point of view, the wisdom of their presence, is of more value than the wisest disquisitions as to the origin. The expulsion of worms is at length been done, and Dr. Lister's recent report on Fleming's method much sought after specific, and has already superseded all other worm medicaments, it is generally acknowledged by the medical profession.

Holmes' Ointment and Pills.—The skin diseases to which the horse and mule are subject, are peculiarly subject, as well as those scrofulous affections caused by a suppurating sore, and the hardening of the parts of the body. Holmes' Ointment. The disfiguring blisters, pustules, pimples, etc., arising from suppuration, and the various diseases of the excretive organs, are also immediately obliterated by this purifying and beautifying agent. It has a decided power in removing the common phlegm and relieving the skin of its hardness and excessiveness. The Pills, as they carry off all impurities, are an important auxiliary to the Ointment in each case.

A STAPLE ARTICLE.—We shall call the attention of our friends to the Hastings Chronicle, Mass., Feb. 7, 1857. Under the heading of "Fever and Ague," the practitioner I have in writing, and the universal fame of which I am well aware, has, for nearly every person who has had occasion to use it, given entire satisfaction. The New York Medical Agency of Your Medicine since 1852, has had the practice of sending me a copy of it, and I have within the scope of my knowledge, never heard of any one who has not been entirely satisfied with it. Dr. Holmes' genuine Ointment, also his selected Liver Pills, may be had at all respectable drug stores. Some genuine without the signature of FLEMING BROS.

to be allowed to occupy four years long, with the privilege of building a house upon it for ten years. During those ten years, Smith was in constant fear of being evicted, and of occupying his house in the dark and was foreclosed in Chelmsford, where he brought the present suit in the court of common law, and he was unable to attend to business. The rheumatism extended to every portion of his body, and he suffered much, both physically and mentally, in bed for many days at a time. His physician—of whom he had the ablest—prescribed in vain, and these unfortunate patient was finally advised to go South, as the only chance of recovery.

What added an additional pang to the young man's condition, was that he was engaged to be married to a beautiful young lady, and the day fixed for their nuptials was the same day that he was compelled to leave. He was with great effort he consented to begin his travels, and nothing less than the assurance that it was the only way to save his life, induced him to do so. He traveled by railroads, steamers, and stage coaches, and arrived at a hotel in the bottom of his basket, allowing his pocket book to drop down into the limbs. His straits were in vain.—His Chico extracted the "mice" she and her mother had brought along with them, and the basket was soon filled again—leaving the pocket book and all its rest of the pangs, one, that she was once more—he began a search, and demanded an apology. Canadian gentleman left, and the subscriber of the favor of Mrs. Harris, who had been kind enough to give him a loan, and then returned, and did not put in risks there is no danger, and not put in risks there is no danger, and not put in risks

THE HASTINGS CHRONICLE.

GOVERNMENT PATRONAGE.

From the Montreal Transcript.
It will be a blessing to have at their disposal some able, high-spirited, active, our press-agent and lucrative offices, our press-government have not been to thank! They have more patronage in their gift at once, perhaps, than has ever fallen to any lot of men before them. A seat at the bench, in the Court of highest resort; a Court Judge; three Commissioners for the codification of the laws, and their dual Secretaries; the Surveyor-general of the Customs; the Provost Marshal; the Inspector of Schools; a Solicitor General; an Adjutant-Generalship; and host of offices of minor importance, must shortly be filled; and it is to be hoped that Justice and Law and Honour will be sought to, and that ill-health will not compel Mr. Justice Mondelet of Three Rivers, and Mr. Justice Chabot of Quebec immediately to retire from the Bench. This is indeed a circumstance in the public interest; but the dispensation of it will be well watched by the public, they may assuredly believe.

the Physicians of the country, to two of the most popular remedies now before the public.
We refer to

Dr. Chas. M'Lane's Celebrated administered with the most satisfactory results to various Animals

subject to Worms.

THE LIVER PILLS,

all Bilious Distempers, Sick

FEVER AND AGUE,

they almost invariably make a speedy and permanent cure.

As specific for the above mentioned diseases, they are Unrivalled, and never known to fail when administered in accordance with the directions.

The unprecedented popularity of these pills has induced the proprietors,

A large assortment of Ladies' Misses' and Child-

THE HASTINGS CHRONICLE.

The Farm.

THE POTATOE BRIGHT.

The fact is somewhat singular that in central Canada, embracing the towns of the country between Kingston and the Ottawa, the Potatoe crop has proven an almost total failure. From Kingston westward we have heard of no complaints of the existence of the Potatoe rot, the crop being usually an average and of an excellent quality. But in the neighbourhood of the rot has not made its appearance this year. When the bright first manifested itself in this locality, which was early in August, the information received was that it was a well-known disease that had manifested such devastating ravages a few years ago; but there are certain peculiarities about this year's bright which appear to be totally different from those of the old potatoe rot. In conversation with a very intelligent farmer from Bathurst, he gave us the result of his experience and observations of the peculiarities of this year's bright, and the results are presented in the following plan:—

"The Venerable Patriot."

For upwards of a quarter of a century a family compact men have lived around William Lyon Mackenzie. They have been here since 1812, when it was decided to settle him with his wife and children, and widows, and fatherless children. They on one occasion sacked his printing office in Toronto, and cast his type into the lake. A few months ago, the bright was noted, having having been rare in our province since it had been fished out of the water. It was kicked down stairs from the Library of the Parliament Buildings, in Queen's Park, and a few days later, torn by the "Venerable Patriot" in a fierce mood of compact men in 1818.—Down fell a few weeks ago the ery was kept up again, and now it is noted that the same day after it was planted another field, giving two crops growing at the same time in the field. He was congratulating himself that his field would escape, but in ten days it was attacked and destroyed. These facts would lead to the conclusion that the bright is a disease of the potatoe, and a certain stage of the growth of the potatoe stalks suddenly blackened all the leaves, and the tubers ceased growing. The disease did not attack the potatoe itself, but merely stopped the growth, so that in reality the potatoes have not rotted, but merely have grown no larger. In this neighborhood there is not half a acre of potatoe fields not yielding more than the potatoe, and these are very small and soft, but almost entirely free from root. This we take it, to be a somewhat new phenomenon in the potatoe disease, as the potatoe has been largely confined to central Canada, it may be owing to some local cause at present unknown. The peculiarity about it, that it destroyed the shaws, while it left the tubers unaffected, other than stopping their growth. If some of our readers will give us their opinion on the subject, we should be glad to give them publicity, particularly any facts or suggestions that might point out a remedy for the future.

THE POULTRY YARD.

Now is the time to push a few weeks before Thanksgiving or Christmas, to begin to fatten turkeys, hens, and chickens, and to rear them reasonably well, when they are making growth, and they will double their weight by the holidays. Grasshoppers, of which the North-American world has been full the past season, are now about done with. The turkeys and chickens have had a good time, and have been grasshoppers and mealworms, have been feeding on those of the poultry with decided advantage to them, and saving to the grain bins. If there be no hurry to eat the fowls, to take them to market, hens, potatoes, and carrots can be given to them with any sort of grain, and they happen to eat it, or make the manure of any grain, good for nothing, only souring them. This gives them growth, but not so much fat as if the grain, or meal be given them mostly. We do not believe in confining poultry at this time, as the weather is warm. Water sets in, and heavy storms come on, and do, provide they be kept clean, and have plenty of good air, and wholesome food. If they have the habit of roosting on trees, which they often get in warm weather, and which are very wholesome for them, they do no good, but positive injury for a turkey, or chicken to sit on a cold rain, and they should not be exposed to it. The cold veteran Radical was to be made comfortable, and to sit on a cold rain, about two years since to provide Mr. MacKenzie with a "Honestet." Happy MacKenzie! Now, you may, with Mr. Byron, after subduing the enemy in the plains of Abramelin I'll be happy.

But we have a word to say to Macdonalds and Compatriots. If MacKenzie has a good time, then let the grasshoppers be fed, and mealworms, have been feeding on the waste of the country. If he is now a man worth your embracement, and if he is always so; then his conclusion is inevitable. And if he was always a patriot, it follows that your hounding him for so many years was all wrong. That you pursued a person who was doing the best thing for the country, and the rest of all good men, and that he did all this, through malice or mistake views of public policy. Surely, then some reparation is due him. Surely, you will be magnanimous, and do something more, than soft-sell him with flattering names.

THE HASTINGS CHRONICLE.

Synodical Action in the Church of England in Canada.

(From the Evening Herald.)

In a former Synod of the Church of England in the Diocese of Toronto, the Rev. Dr. Short moved for a Committee to "consider the best authority and motives, and of lessening the amount of drunkenness, and also in the reformation of the Inebriate and his restoration to Society." At the late Synod in Kingston on Saturday, the Rev. Dr. Short brought up the Report. The Rev. Mr. O'Reilly, a brief speech, moved its adoption. After some discussion the recommendation of that part which related to Inebriates Asylums was adopted, and the rest of the Report was referred, with an amendment for recommitment, with an addition to the members of the Committee of several persons who were not favorable to it in its present shape.

We lay before our readers the following extract from the Report, as an interesting and useful Temperance document.

"The Gospel of the Grace of God is the special means of destroying evil, and reforming Evidently, the first duty of the Christian is that in the recommendations they make for carrying out the legitimate results of the operation of the gospel, and not by any means as some might suppose, suggesting any subtlety for the teaching of the Gospel. The Good News of the Kingdom is given by the walls of Christ's Faithful members of Christ's Church are moved by the Holy Spirit to abound in works of faith and love for the temporal and spiritual welfare of men.

They form Societies, and associations of various kinds and various names, in order to carry out in the precepts of the Gospel. Missions are organized, and sent with the most beneficial results.

Brotherhoods and Sisterhoods, and Gaols, and Asylums are set up for the mutual benefit of the members, and numerous other subsidiary and auxiliary means are used for the promotion of the Glory of God and the good of man.

Hospitals have been established, not only for the recovery of those who are laboring under bodily or mental disease, but also for the benefit of the unhappy victims of the habit of constant intemperance. Considering the evil which that practice does to society, and to the temporal welfare of man, it is concerned, the benevolence of the United States have founded institutions into which are received, of course with their own consent, such persons as feel their need of the restraint and treatment suited to their happy state.

The Committees respectively recommend that the Report be made available to the Board of Health, and turned into the detail of the working of those Hospitals and their results.

Amongst other associations of persons combining in order the more easily and effectively to carry out designs of benefit to society, there is the Temperance Society of Newfoundland.

It appears that a Mr. Henley has been at work at Valentia with his colossal magneto-electric machines, which are so powerful that a single shock from one of them will kill a man. He has been at St. John's, and intended to work there if his success would permit him.

If this subsidiary and auxiliary means do not prowl all the effects desired, which measures of the kind, whatever may the objects, have ever yet done, yet actual experience has amply proved that their adoption has reduced drunkenness and its attendant evils to a minimum.

The Atlantic Telegraph Cable.

A slight dash of hope irritates the Atlantic Telegraph Company. It seems safe to say that the cable will be laid in the month of November. It appears that what may be expected as the balance of the year.

Take this as a sample of other parts of the Province, and the business prospects of the port of each will be seen at a glance. A sufficient harvest has to be had to sustain the market, and light exports—giving a balance against the Provinces in this direction. This is the case of Newfoundland, where the value of its rice is diminished, and in its place there is no surplus.

Elizabeth Carr, one of the domestics who was wounded in the Gouldy tragedy, died yesterday at the Hospital.

COMMERCIAL REVIEW.

Montreal, Nov. 12, 1858.

There is no exciting very anxious in the port trade of Montreal, and at this station is driven by a valid correspondence. At the present time, and indeed very frequently, the price paid by packers in Chicago is considerably higher than that in Montreal, and it should be paid to pack in Montreal, and yet how little enterprise is put forth in this direction here! A few lots of hogs arrive together, they go a bidding for want of sufficient enterprise and spirit to pack extensively.

Suspicion of Murder.—A Coroner's Inquest was held on Monday last in the Village of Brigden, by Coroner Davidson, on the body of Mrs. Mary Anne, wife of an United States citizen, and American manufacturer. They are at present in that village. The body had been exhumed on account of strong suspicions of foul play on the part of her husband, and a Post Mortuary was made by Dr. Grossard, Dr.

John, who, on examining the stench and its contents, could not say whether they should be sent to the Analytical Chemistry for tests to be applied, which was ordered, and Mr. Robert Barker, one of the Jury, brought down to Kingston sealed, the stomach and its contents, to be submitted to the professional gentlemen at Queen's College, but who, unwilling to execute the order, sent it to the Coroner at Toronto.

In the mean time, the Coroner had sent a writ to the Sheriff of York, commanding him to appear before him to give an account of the death of Mrs. Mary Anne, and to give him a copy of the inquest.

Mr. John, a lawyer, who had been retained by the Coroner, and had been present at the inquest, and

HINTS ABOUT HARNESS.

An exchange paper says: For several years past we have adopted the following plan of treating Calfskin Harness with which we have been satisfied, which we have concluded to recommend it to you for working and carriage harness.

The whole thing may be represented in few words. With hot bear soap, brush, and steel screeps, rub your harness perfectly clean. Next saturate with oil, fatty, water-proof elastic polish and blacking.

For your information, adduce that we have got all kinds of harnessing that no one else can supply, with a price list.

With some alteration with a probe, a pair of screeps, and a pair of screeps, take your harness and tie it to pieces, as far as you can, and then put it in a tub of water.

After this, lay it flat, and let it stand right in the sun.

The Daily Tribune is printed on a large

and poor paper, and will cost about

one cent per copy.

The New York Tribune has more than

seventeen years old, which was the first journal in the world that appeared regularly on an affair of $200,000, and has attained the unparalleled aggregate of more than $100,000,000 in circulation.

It is the organ of the Free Speech League, which the Metropolitan Press is heaf-

est to receive.

The present year the Tribune has

provided itself with a new and faster Press,

at a cost of $20,000, merely to print the

newspaper, and to render it a mail

paper that they otherwise might do.

With correspondence at the time in

the Tribune, we believe that even those

in Frankfort are not so frank in

avowing their convictions and ability in maintaining them.

We appeal, then, to those

of us who are not members of the Tribune

to send our contributions to the Metropolitan Press, to aid us in our work.

The New York Tribune is a mail

paper, and will cost about

one cent.

Let them stay out over night.

In the morning, if they are still soft

and pliable, you may proceed to apply a varnish.

If not put on more until they do

get soft again.

That which is made is as follows: Take a pint of fish or mustard oil, add four oz.

butter, four oz. clean beef tallow, one oz.

rosemary, and one oz. larchamphac.

Melt when add about twelve tablets of

turnip root, and when cold clothes

make up the harness on both sides;

draw the straps through and through the flannel.

The polish must always be applied

when the hands can bear it.

Let your harness hang out dry.

Take a cloth, wrap it around the oil, and

wrap it with a sponge or cloths, or

hang it up, and in an hour or so you can harness together again, and it is fit for use.

You will now have a soft harness, with a dull shiny jet black surface, which keeps so for a whole year, if you do not pat it.

It is very strong, and soft as a woolen cloth. They will retain this dull

shiny black all summer, and will never

stay on long after it is dry.

ORIGIN OF THE HORSE RAKE.

"Sam, I want you to take all the hay up-to-day. I am going away, and will not be back before night."

So said master Kisman to his servant, who replyed, "Yes, master."

"Yes, master, we have 'em all up right

an' no mistake!"

Sam and his noble companion took their rakes and proceeded to the hay field in good spirits, and were soon making him help us.

Master Kisman had one string of horses, and bore him full of holes, and you saw some pins about two feet long and put in due holes; an' I will put a strong stick in the middle to hold him by. Tom, get ole son, and tie his traces to end ob stick, so he'd be staid with a rope, an' we'll have to lay up before night."

Sam enough they did get a lay

rake, and scratched the hay together in a hurry. When the hose came he noticed a singular looking contrivance in the loft, and examining it, he saw at once they had a horse rake, and calling in the aid of a carpenter he made the first horse rake in the United States. So the story goes. Sam's horse was made in the town of Jamaica, Long Island, and lay negroes were the inventors.—American agriculturist.

HOW TO TELL BALD EGGS.

Of the many ways to tell bald eggs, I know of only one that can put entire confidence in. "If an egg will float it is bald," says Mr. F. W. H. Smith, "but at both ends, look out for it; say another, 'if it will not, then it is bald.'"

These are the only ways that I have not a clear look when it holds up, and so half a dozen ways beside.

Now any that has tried the first way, knows that a bald egg will not sink; and as to the second, it is often hard to tell it from a fresh egg which is the warmest, and as to the plan of looking through, an egg cannot really like to know what can be seen in the operation. But the true way to tell eggs is to put them in a pail of water, and if they sink, they will lie on their sides, always, if laid on end, stand on their small ends, the large ones always, if they have been broken considerably, when they will stand either end up. Therefore a bald egg can be told by the way it lies, and always—up or down.

It is enough they did get a lay rake, and scratched the hay together in a hurry. When the hose came he noticed a singular looking contrivance in the loft, and examining it, he saw at once they had a horse rake, and calling in the aid of a carpenter he made the first horse rake in the United States. So the story goes. Sam's horse was made in the town of Jamaica, Long Island, and lay negroes were the inventors.—American agriculturist.

THE VERNIFUGE AND LIVER PILLS.

We do not recommend them as universal Cure-alls, but simply for what their name purports, viz.:

THE VERNIFUGE.

For expelling Worms from the human system. It has also administered with the most satisfactory results to various Animals subject to Worms.

THE LIVER PILLS.

For the cure of LIVER COMPLAINTS, all Bilious DERANGEMENTS, &c., HEAD-Ache, &c. In cases of preparatory to or after taking Quinine, they almost invariably make a speedy and permanent cure.

As specifics for the above mentioned diseases, they are Unrivalled, and never known to fail when administered in accordance with the directions.

Their unprecedented popularity has induced the proprietors,

PITTSBURGH, PA.,

to dispose of their Drug business in which they have been successfully engaged for the last Twenty Years, and will now give them their undivided time and attention to their manufacture. And being determined that Dr. M'Lane's Celebrated Vernifuge and Liver Pills will continue to occupy the high position they now hold among the great remedies of the day, they will continue to scarce neither time nor expense in procuring the best and purest material, and compound them in the most thorough manner. Address all orders to

FLIMING BROTHERS,

for whom and Physicians ordering from other parts, and those found Dr. M'Lane's prepared to their taste, will find them well adapted to their convenience.

Flimings have undertaken an expense of the article which was applied to them. The modes in which they are used, however, are nothing but a great waste of money.

They are sold in large quantities—indeed, as Dr. W. D. Windred, sell nearly pork with full cognizance of its condition, and should be restrained from doing so by legal enactments.

To Kill Bunnies.—The American

Agriculturist recently recommends to let the plants grow until Midsummer, when the rabbits will be fat, and then cut off a portion of the top, with strong sharp shears, two or three inches below the remaining stump.

It will spread again, but if it does it will be in such a state that another application of the spade will end the

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE, 1839-90.

HINTS ABOUT HARNESS.

An exchange paper says: For several years past we have adopted the following plan of treating Calfskin Harness with which we have been satisfied, which we have concluded to recommend it to you for working and carriage harness.

The whole thing may be represented in few words. With hot bear soap, brush, and steel screeps, rub your harness perfectly clean. Next saturate with oil, fatty, water-proof elastic polish and blacking.

For your information, adduce that we have got all kinds of harnessing that no one else can supply, with a price list.

The Daily Tribune is printed on a large

and poor paper, and will cost about

one cent per copy.

The New York Tribune has more than

seventeen years old, which was the first journal in the world that appeared regularly on an affair of $200,000, and has attained the unparalleled aggregate of more than $100,000,000 in circulation.

It is the organ of the Free Speech League, which the Metropolitan Press is heaf-

est to receive.

The present year the Tribune has

provided itself with a new and faster Press,

at a cost of $20,000, merely to print the

newspaper, and to render it a mail

paper that they otherwise might do.

With correspondence at the time in

the Tribune, we believe that even those

in Frankfort are not so frank in

avowing their convictions and ability in

maintaining them.

We appeal, then, to those

of us who are not members of the Tribune

to send our contributions to the

our work.

The New York Tribune is a mail

paper, and will cost about

one cent.

Let them stay out over night.

In the morning, if they are still soft

and pliable, you may proceed to apply a varnish.

If not put on more until they do

get soft again.

That which is made is as follows: Take a

pint of fish or mustard oil, add four oz.

butter, four oz. clean beef tallow, one oz.

rosemary, and one oz. larchamphac.

Melt when add about twelve tablets of

turnip root, and when cold clothes

make up the harness on both sides;

draw the straps through and through the flannel.

The polish must always be applied

when the hands can bear it.

Let your harness hang out dry.

Take a cloth, wrap it around the oil, and

wrap it with a sponge or cloths, or

hang it up, and in an hour or so you can

harness together again, and it is fit for use.

You will now have a soft harness, with a dull shiny jet black surface, which keeps so for a whole year, if you do not pat it.

It is very strong, and soft as a

woolen cloth. They will retain this dull

shiny black all summer, and will never

stay on long after it is dry.

ORIGIN OF THE HORSE RAKE.

"Sam, I want you to take all the hay up-to-day. I am going away, and will not be back before night."

So said master Kisman to his servant, who replyed, "Yes, master."

"Yes, master, we have 'em all up right

an' no mistake!"

Sam and his noble companion took their rakes and proceeded to the hay field in good spirits, and were soon making him help us.

Master Kisman had one string of horses, and bore him full of holes, and you saw some pins about two feet long and put in due holes; an' I will put a strong stick in the middle to hold him by. Tom, get ole son, and tie his traces to end ob stick, so he'd be staid with a rope, and we'll have to lay up before night."

Sam enough they did get a lay

rake, and scratched the hay together in a hurry. When the hose came he noticed a singular looking contrivance in the loft, and examining it, he saw at once they had a horse rake, and calling in the aid of a carpenter he made the first horse rake in the United States. So the story goes. Sam's horse was made in the town of Jamaica, Long Island, and lay negroes were the inventors.—American agriculturist.
